LINCOLN AT GETTYSBURG

November 19, 1863

FOURSCORE and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here; but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Air Force Commanders Are Involved In Meyers 'Cover-Up'

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Junius Jones said today that air force commanding officers must take responsibility for what senate investigators have called an attempted "cover up" of an anonymous letter accusing Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers of irregularities.

Jones, chief air inspector, told a senate war investigating sub-committee that after it requested information in the air force files regarding Meyers, he put the decision up to Gen. Carl E. Spaatz, air force chief, and retired Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, then Spaatz' deputy.

"When I presented all the facts to them, my responsibility ceased," Jones said.

The anonymous letter, received by the war department in 1945, purported to come from an air force officer and said Meyers had made "immense profits" from wartime financial dealings.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) has protested that a copy of the letter was not among material given the senate group in response to its in-

Alexander praised the training given at Camp Sharpe, stating that "we used all that was taught us, and more." He came to Gettysburg after the Army decided to put into use his knowledge of the German language and newspaper experience and transferred him to psychological warfare.

Taught By Refugee
Hans Habe, refugee from Hungary who joined the Free French forces and later joined the U. S. Army, was principal instructor at the camp here. Habe, Alexander says, taught the men how to recognize various uniforms by wearing a different one to each class. Habe's latest novel (Please turn to page 7)

Littlestown ROTARY CLUB HEARS TALK ON ATOMIC ENERGY

"Atomic Energy" was the subject of the address given by Dr. George R. Miller, professor of Physics, Gettysburg college at the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club, on Tuesday evening in Schott's banquet hall.

The president, Edward T. Richardson, presided over the meeting and Prof. Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown schools and chairman of the Rotary International service committee presented the speaker.

"The atomic energy is no secret to scientists who work along those lines," Dr. Miller said. "It takes a tremendous amount of outside energy to release the energy of the atoms—a very inefficient operation."

"Atomic energy as it is studied today is based on Einstein's theory of 1905 of Nuclear Energy," he added. To give some idea of atomic energy the speaker stated that one pound of uranium will give off energy equal to 12 million kilowatts or 20 million pounds of TNT.

Dr. Miller then discussed the background of atomic work here in the United States. Because of the war clouds in Europe in 1940, no publications or public lectures were any longer permitted on nuclear energy, even in the colleges, he said. In 1938, a German scientist named (Continued on page 8)

REPORT 20 DEAD AFTER CRASH OF SWEDISH PLANE

Rome, Nov. 19 (AP)—A Swedish plane reported officially to be carrying 30 persons crashed today in the mountains near Salerno.

Correspondents at Ravello, near the crash scene, reported they had been informed at least 20 were killed and 10 injured.

The Swedish legation said the air ministry in Stockholm informed it that 30 were aboard. Some 21 were Swedish fliers, being returned from Addis Ababa, where they had delivered B-17 planes sold by Sweden to Ethiopia. However, Col. Ingvar Berg, leader of the Swedish squadron, was not aboard.

First Believed U. S. Plane

"A flag at the Swedish legation was dropped to half staff and a representative left for the scene."

Carabinieri officials at Salerno said a party had been dispatched to the scene of the crash, believed to be on 3,248-foot Mt. Scala.

First reports of the accident said the plane was a U. S. Army transport, but Col. John M. Williams, American military attaché, said he had learned "definitely" the craft was not American.

Crashed In Fog

Flight operations officers at Ciampino airfield in Rome, where the wrecked plane was due at 4 a. m. GMT today (11 p. m. EST Wednesday), said the craft was a Bristol and that she carried Swedish military personnel.

Five of the injured were reported in serious condition and to be receiving aid in a rude hut on the mountainside.

Fog shrouded the mountains at the time of the crash.

MARSHALL HITS "SOVIET LIES"

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall injected a new element of toughness today in this country's patient-but-firm policy toward Russia.

Charging that Soviet officials and their Communist allies are lying and know they're lying in a "brazen and contemptuous" propaganda barrage against his European recovery program, Marshall declared "it is time to call a halt."

"We do not propose to stand by and watch the disintegration of the international community to which we belong," the cabinet officer asserted on the eve of his departure for a face to face meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov.

But while his speech in Chicago last night was his toughest yet as a cabinet officer, Marshall nevertheless pledged that his sole aim at next week's Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in London will be to find a sound basis for a European peace settlement.

The secretary omitted any mention of the idea of making peace with Germany without Russia. Rather he said the United States will work for the creation of "a provisional central authority in a federated German state" as a step toward the final framing of a formal treaty.

Scott Tells Tale Of Tall Cash Times

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., (R-Pa.) said today that on one occasion last summer he spent $1,500,000 for a luncheon for five, on another occasion spent $17,000,000 on one day, and once offered a bellboy a $10,000 tip.

Scott said he never felt so dough-heavy in his life.

It happened, however, in China. He explained that at the rate of exchange prevailing when he was in China with a subcommittee of the House committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce the $1,500,000 he spent for the luncheon represented only $15 in U. S. currency and the $17,500,000 only $170.

"You know," he said, "that bell-boy in Peiping refused my $10,000 tip. Turned up his nose at it. So I offered him a package of cigarettes. His face lighted up and he bowed three times in gratitude."

"You see, he could sell the cigarettes for $20,000."

Mother, Children Perish In Flames

Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—A woman and two small children perished today in flames which destroyed a three-story frame apartment-business building.

The victims were tentatively identified by Mt. Pleasant firemen as Mrs. John Crosby and two of her children. The Crosbys occupied an apartment on an upper floor of the building, which housed a market and a tavern on the first floor. Their charred bodies were found in the ruins after the building was razed. Five other families, totalling about 25 persons, escaped.

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said today the Senate-House economic committee will begin hearings Friday on points in President Truman's cost of living program, but proposals for limited rationing and price control will not be included.

PAIR GET QUICK LIFE SENTENCE

Waupun, Wis., Nov. 19 (AP)—Robert Winslow, 24, and Buford Sennett, 22, a pair of small town desperadoes who went on a crime spree last week-end and killed a University of Wisconsin medical student and assaulted his sister-in-law, today began serving life sentences after their pleas of guilty to first degree murder.

Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor, who imposed the sentences, expressed regret that Wisconsin laws do not provide a death penalty. He described the slaying of Carl L. Carlson, 25, married and the father of a small child, as "cold blooded, cruel and revolting."

"Words fall me in an attempt to express my utter contempt and scorn for you," Judge Proctor told Winslow and Sennett, who less than 24 hours earlier had surrendered to an armed posse after a 12-hour siege at an isolated farm near Neillsville, Wis. "I think that you are fortunate that this offense occurred in Wisconsin."

"I don't believe I would have any qualms whatever if our constitution provided that in cases like this I would have the power and authority to sentence you to the gas chamber, the electric chair or to be hanged by the neck until dead."

Winslow and Sennett had freely admitted they had shot and killed Carlson last Friday night and kidnapped his sister-in-law, Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, a University of Michigan co-ed, whom they admitted assaulting. However, they were sentenced on the murder charge.

SEEK BLONDE IN GEM ROBBERY

Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—State and city police today sought a 22-year-old blonde as the key figure in Greensburg's latest daylight jewelry store robbery—the second in a month.

Bertha Sulter, a clerk at Feirst's on South Pennsylvania avenue, said she was alone in the store yesterday when a girl entered and asked to see a diamond ring.

The girl then asked for a measuring stick to see what size ring she needed, and shortly afterward left the store, without buying anything. Not until she started to put the trays back into the case did Miss Sulter notice that an inexpensive ring had been substituted for one priced at $475.

Witnesses said the blonde girl joined three companions—two men and a woman—outside the store.

A few weeks ago two men made off with two diamond rings, valued at $2,400, under similar circumstances, at the Charles Blockenberger store on the same street.

SLIGHT DECLINE IN FOOD PRICES

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Retail food prices declined slightly between mid-September and mid-October, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today on the basis of preliminary estimates for a few cities.

The agency coupled this information with its final report for September 15, confirming earlier tentative estimates that retail food prices hit a new record high on that date for the fourth consecutive month.

The regular monthly BLS survey in 56 large cities showed an advance of 3.6 per cent between mid-August and mid-September. This brought the retail food price index to 203.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

The Bureau said rises in meat prices, dairy products and eggs were mainly responsible. The index was 40 per cent higher than in June, 1946, and 10 per cent above June, 1920, the peak after World War I.

MOUNT SEEKS GYMNASIUM IN U. S. SURPLUSES

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Six members of the Maryland Congressional delegation and representatives of Mount Saint Mary's college, Emmitsburg, Md., Monday discussed the school's request for a gymnasium and physical education building with Department of Education officials.

Dr. Ernest V. Hollis, chief of the veterans facilities program for the department, said that the college group would submit a specific application within the next few days outlining the school's need.

His department, he said, would take "final action" within three days of its receipt.

Seek Surplus Building

The building would be obtained from temporary war structures now being disposed of as surplus. Such buildings are available without cost to schools with G. I. programs, although in some instances the cost of disassembling, transporting and reconstructing is paid by the institution.

The meeting was held in the office of Senator O'Connor (D). O'Connor said the school presented its needs of a field house to provide "adequate" physical training and sports facilities for the school's 710 students, including more than 500 veterans.

Hollis said a structure of approximately 5,000 square feet of floor space was contemplated.

The school soon will occupy a class room-laboratory building of 6,000 square feet, which was received, along with some equipment, under the same Federal program with no cost to the school.

Gelder Talks To Liquor Dealers

Harrisburg, Nov. 19 (AP)—Chairman Frederick P. Gelder of the State Liquor Control Board, told liquor dealers of Pennsylvania last night that "you have an interest in whether your competitor down the street obeys the laws."

Gelder made the statement in an address at a banquet of the association of Retail Liquor Dealers of Pennsylvania in which he also urged cooperation of local authorities in aiding the board's staff of agents to enforce the liquor laws.

Gelder said that a "pretty good barometer of what the public thinks of the liquor industry is the local opinion vote."

He added that a survey has shown in communities where the vote is against continuing sale of liquor it is because, in many instances, one or two violators have aroused antipathy of the citizens and prompted them to vote out liquor or beer.

The new taxes were expected to produce $36,000,000 for the first five months with the collections from the soft drink levy estimated to produce $1,460,000 monthly and actually producing $1,251,403 for the month of October.

Topping the list of revenue raisers was the four-cent a package tax on cigarettes, which brought in $3,611,500 for October, a record for cigarette taxes, and $15,369,000 for the first five months of the fiscal period.

The revenue department also listed liquor tax receipts at $5,188,369 for the five month period, with more than half of the levy, or $2,655,295, being collected during the month of October.

FOOD TRAIN HAS 270 CARS

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—The 270-car, two-mile-long Friendship Train, laden with gifts of food for France and Italy, rolled into New York to a spectacular welcome yesterday including a city hall reception at which it was called America's contribution to the cause of "peacemongering."

The long string of cars carried about 13,500 tons of basic foodstuffs—valued at more than $1,000,000—which had been donated by the populace of many cities and communities as it made its cross-continental journey from Los Angeles. It left the California city with 12 cars.

The food is scheduled to reach France on Christmas Eve and Italy New Year's Day.

At City Hall, Warren R. Austin, U. S. representative to the United Nations, told the 25,000 gathered there that "this meeting, and all the many meetings along the trail of the Friendship Train, can certainly be called 'peacemongering.'"

By sending the food, Austin said, the American people have assured the countries of Europe "that Americans understand and are prepared to act in the future as they have in the past."

Pilot Blamed For Crash Fatal To 50

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board reported today the "probable cause" of the Capital Airlines crash June 13 on a Blue Ridge mountain in West Virginia was the pilot's decision to fly below the 3,000-foot minimum altitude in bad weather conditions.

All 50 persons aboard were killed when the Douglas DC-4 smashed into the side of the mountain, between Charles Town, W. Va., and Hillsboro, Va., during a rainstorm. The big airliner was enroute from Pittsburgh to Washington.

The CAB said "a contributing cause" was a "faulty clearance" given by the Civil Aeronautics Administration's airway traffic control in Washington. The board said this faulty clearance was "tacitly approved" by the dispatcher for the airline and accepted by the pilot, Capt. Horace Stark, 46, of Arlington, Va.

MICHIGAN HAS CHANCE TO SET YARDAGE MARK

By GAIL FOWLER

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Michigan has a chance to become the first big nine team in modern gridiron history to finish the season with a total offensive average of 400 or more yards per game from rushing and passing.

The Wolverines in waxing Wisconsin, 40-6, last week, again assumed the top rung in national collegiate athletic bureau statistical rankings for total offense, after spending a week in second place behind Detroit's Titans, who traded positions this week.

Another mark the Michigans are shooting at in this conference finale with Ohio State is the yardage average per pass-attempt. The record is 10.5 by Tulsa in 1944, and Michigan already is ahead of that at 11.1.

Penn State Third

Although sagging slightly, Detroit retained the rushing offense lead with a 316 yard per game figure. Penn State was the only other major team above the 300 mark, with 302.1. Mississippi, paced by record-breaking Charlie Conerly, has completed 134 passes, 120 of them by Conerly, and needs only five more to pass the all-time mark of 138 set by Glenn Dobbs and Tulsa in 1942.

The figures: Total offense—(gains rushing and passing)—(1) Michigan, 408 yards average per game; (2) Detroit, 403; (3) Notre Dame, 278.4; (4) Penn State, 371.1; (5) California, 367.3; (6) Hardin-Simmons, 348.8; (7) Missouri, 344.2; (8) UCLA, 343.8; (9) Pennsylvania, 343.7; (10) Georgia Tech, 341.1.

Rushing offense—(1) Detroit, 316 yards per game; (2) Penn State, 302.1; (3) Hardin-Simmons, 272.8; (4) Wichita, 266.9; (5) Missouri, 261.9; California, 257.4; (7) Army, 248.6; (8) Pennsylvania, 243; (9) Oklahoma, 242.9; (10) Michigan, 239.5.

Forward passing offense—(1) Michigan, 169.5 yards average per game; (2) Indiana, 159.4; (3) Brigham Young, 156.2; (4) Arizona, 151.9; (5) Notre Dame, 149; (6) Mississippi, 146.1; (7) San Francisco, 139.7; (8) Georgia, 139.4; (9) Georgia Tech, 135.9; (10) Wake Forest, 135.8.

Eagles Taking Yanks Seriously

Philadelphia, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, only half a game behind the Pittsburgh Steelers in the National football league's Eastern division chase, are working hard in preparation for Sunday's encounter with the Boston Yanks.

Coach Greasy Neale's squad is not taking the Yanks lightly despite their rather easy win over the Beantowners here Sunday. Neale is most concerned with his tackle problem since the injured Vic Sears may not be ready for the game in Boston. Otis Douglas has been doing fine job in Sears' spot but has had to play practically the entire game because only four tackles are available.

Joining Joe Muha, the quick kicking expert, is the only member of the squad nursing bumps and bruises from last Sunday's game and has been taking it easy in practice. He'll be ready for Sunday though.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—The college baseball coaches who have been maneuvering toward a "no tampering" agreement with professional baseball may suffer a rude jolt at the major league meetings next month. The executive committee put the matter on the agenda without recommendation, then Branch Rickey, who has talked in glowing terms to the American Association of College Baseball Coaches, apparently sounded a warning in a talk to the Harvard Varsity club.

"We are honest professionals," said Branch. "But colleges throughout the country grab some boy who looks like an athlete, offer him a scholarship and take him away from the big leagues."

One answer might be that even those scholarships merely delay a boy's entrance into pro ball if he really has the stuff. Someone might also point out that Rickey's Dodge organization lost $20,000 this year on one pennant-winning Class "D" ball club and that it would be cheaper at that rate to let the colleges develop the material for him.

But the heck of it is that, if the big leaguers start attacking the vulnerable points of college sport, there won't be anyone at the meetings to speak for the defense.

WHO WON?

Steve Owen, the football Giants' coach, was talking the other day about a $10 bet he once made with a pal as a result of a chin-wagging session. "We gave the money to Art Rooney as stakeholder," Steve explained. "Rooney didn't know what to do with the $20 so he bet it on a horse. . . . A week later we each got a check for $125 for our share of the bet—and our original $10 still was up."

Report Lamotta Had Swollen Spleen

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—The New York State Athletic commission continued today its closed door investigation into rumors of a "fix" in the Billy Fox-Jake Lamotta fight last Friday at Madison Square Garden.

Fox won on a T.K.O. in the fourth round. Dr. Nicholas Salerno, Lamotta's physician, yesterday was reported to have told Col. Eddie Egan, commission chairman, that he examined Lamotta October 14 and found Jake suffering from a swelling of the spleen. Lamotta, saying he had nothing to hide, told reporters a punch by Fox to the injured side hurt him badly in the first round and led to the knockout.

Meantime, the district attorney's office, which is also planning an investigation, said it was still drawing up plans and Democratic state legislators, though state Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, said a resolution would be introduced at the next session calling for an inquiry into the athletic commission's "administrative abuses of boxing and the various abuses in the sport."

CARLOZO LEADS STATE SCORING ON 78 POINTS

(By The Associated Press)

Joe Carlozo—West Chester freshman who wound up his nine-game schedule by failing to score against Millersville last Saturday—today holds a 10-point lead in Pennsylvania's college scoring race.

The weekly associated press tabulation showed Carlozo finished the year with 13 touchdowns for a total of 78 points.

Second spot is held down by Dan Towler, negro fullback of Washington & Jefferson who still has one game to play. Towler also failed to score last Saturday in W & J's game with Geneva, but his 68 points was enough to keep him ahead of Jeff Durkota of Penn State with 60.

Durkota, with 10 touchdowns to date, has a good chance to add to his figure against Pitt Saturday. Muhlenberg's Jack Crider—last year's state scoring king—has been hampered by injuries most of the current season and has scored five touchdowns for 30 points.

Ed Czekaj, Penn State end, retained the point-after-touchdown title, raising his total to 30 to lead Norm Zwald of Lock Haven Teachers by seven points.

PGA TROUBLES SMOOTHED OUT

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association, having smoothed out its family trouble, which included Vic Ghezzi's disturbance over Ryder team selections, today cruised serenely into routine business minus any signs of storm warnings.

Ben Hogan, who has contended he would like to meet Freddie Corcoran, PGA promotion director, "man-to-man" to settle differences, was limiting his swinging to a teaching clinic today, a high-spot on the annual meeting's agenda.

Corcoran, who has denied charges of mixing up Little Ben in a political move to unseat Ed Dudley as president, so far has not appeared on the scene and is not expected to do so. Corcoran remained in New York.

Ghezzi "Satisfied"

The PGA executive committee diplomatically called Ghezzi on the carpet to air his grievance of being left off "intentionally" from the 1947 Ryder cup squad. Ghezzi, making public his hurt feelings before-hand, had been threatened with expulsion from the organization for breaking the "code of ethics" which forbids PGA members beefing for general consumption. All complaints are expected to be off the record and settled before the executive board.

Ghezzi, after explaining his feelings to the executive body in a secret session, emerged "satisfied" with the explanations and a member still in good standing.

The executive board included Dudley, who earlier yesterday was elected president for the seventh year in balloting of about 70 delegates. The faction booming Horton Smith for the office was crushed in the landslide.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19 (AP)—Practice against West Virginia's "T" formation and a few new measures of their own highlights the Temple Owls' workouts for Saturday's final game at Morgantown, West Va.

Temple has faced two single wing teams—Penn State and Michigan State—on successive Saturdays and has to revamp its defenses to combat with the "T" this week-end.

The Owls appear to be all right physically with only Phil Slosburg, star triple threat back, under the weather. Slosburg will be ready for plenty of action though he is six or seven pounds under his playing weight.

Rice Center Is Lineman Of Week

New York, Nov. 19 (AP)—Joe Watson, of Rice, hailed as the greatest center in the Southwest conference since Texas Christian's Ki Aldrich a decade ago, was selected today as the football lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Watson is the fifth lineman and third center to be honored this fall. The others: Jay Rhodemyre, Kentucky center; Bill Swacki, Columbia end; Bobby Davis, Georgia Tech tackle, and Chuck Bednarick, Penn center.

Bednarick, candidate for All-America center, played the full 60 minutes for Penn against Army on Saturday. For the West Point Cadets, Captain Joe Steffy turned in one of his better performances. His partial blocking of an attempted field goal kept Penn from winning.

PANTHERS JINX TO PENN STATE

Pittsburgh, Nov. 19 (AP)—The woe-begone Pitt Panthers will be trying desperately to stave off the worst football record in Pitt history in a clash with Penn State's unbeaten and untied powerhouse here Saturday.

Coach Mike Milligan's boys must win their last two games—against Penn State and West Virginia—or sink below the level of any other Pitt team. All other Panther elevens have managed to win at least three times in a season this year. Milligan's first as head coach, the Panthers have eked out only one victory—a 12-0 upset victory over Ohio State.

Pitt will have to meet Penn State without center Len Radnor, who was injured in the Purdue game. The Panthers will have the service however, of halfback Tony Dimatteo, who was kept out of the Purdue game because of injuries.

Two Teams Beat Jinx

The Pitt "Jinx" has hit all but two Penn State teams to play in Pittsburgh. The Nittany Lions won here in 1919 by a 20-0 score and then didn't repeat until 1941 when they beat Clark Shaughnessy's first Pitt eleven 14-0.

Repeatedly Penn State has come to Pittsburgh a heavy favorite only to come a cropper. On three occasions Pitt tacked the only loss on the otherwise unblemished record on Penn State teams.

Shaughnessy teams defeated Penn State in 1942 and 1943 and Coach Wes Fessler's team did the trick last year. Milligan, Fessler's successor, isn't too optimistic, however.

"Everyone knows Penn State has a great team," Milligan said. "It would be foolish to say we're going to win or lose but I know the kids will be in there hustling."

"They've been up against some rough opposition before," he added ruefully, recalling the Pitt defeats this year at the hands of Notre Dame, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana and Purdue.

A crowd of 50,000 is expected.

Boosts Planned In Player Pool

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP)—The possibility of boosting the money in the player pool for the Pony league Governor's Cup playoffs next year is being investigated by officials of the minor baseball loop.

League representatives yesterday decided to see if the pool can be raised above $2,000 that was divided among the players last season. The group also voted at the annual meeting to name a committee to plan celebrations marking the league's 10th anniversary next year.

Bob Stedler, sports editor of the Buffalo News, was elected president for his 10th straight term.

Gets $3,000 Share In Ship's Salvage

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—Joel R. Berkebile, 25, former gunner on the light cruiser Omaha, is the possessor today of a $3,000 share in the salvage of a German merchant ship seized while attempting to cross the South Atlantic with wartime supplies from Japan.

Berkebile, who moved here from Somerset, Pa., to take a job as an apprentice plumber after his discharge from the Navy in 1946, said yesterday he had received a check for $3,000 as his portion of money realized from the sale of the ship's cargo.

Berkebile said a 65-man crew from the Omaha was placed aboard the German vessel which was escorted by the cruiser to San Juan, Puerto Rico. In the merchant ship's hold, the former gunner said, were found between 3,000 and 4,000 American tires being shipped from Japan to Germany.

"There was some talk at the time that we would get salvage money," Berkebile said, "but I never really expected it."

BOSTON TRADES GIVE BEANTOWN PENNANT FEVER

Boston, Nov. 19 (AP)—The pell mell rush of both Boston clubs into baseball trade marts, with apparent good results, has revived hopes for an "up and down Commonwealth avenue" all Boston world series in 1948.

Acquisition of such performers by the Red Sox as Pitchers Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder and Shortstop Vernon (Junior) Stephens really has rekindled the pennant flame among the many supporters of the club which now has the winning Joe McCarthy as field pilot and the canny Joe Cronin as general manager.

In obtaining Jimmy Russell from the Pittsburgh Pirates the Braves now have an outfielder who possesses something resembling a good arm. Last season none of the outer gardeners in Tribal regalia could drill the ball in from the open spaces with consistent speed and accuracy.

Get Two Pitchers

In Al Lyons, also obtained from the Pirates, the tribe has a pitcher who can throw hard for a few innings, filling another 1947 void. The Brave also plan to use Jim Pendergast, a big strong left hander obtained from Syracuse, as a relief pitcher next season.

Bill Salkeld, a left handed hitting catcher also comes from the Bucs to the Braves who were left with Phil Masi as number one receiver and the only experienced major league catcher on the club after they released Hank Camelli.

In exchange for their newcomers the Sox have given up to the Browns infielders Eddie Pellagrini and Sam Dente, pitchers Clem Dreisewerd, Jim Wilson and Al Widmar and outfielder Pete Layden, plus cash and another player to be announced.

To get Russell, Lyons and Salkeld from the Pirates the Braves gave up outfielder Johnny Hopp, perhaps one of the fastest men in baseball who is left handed all the way, and infielder Danny Murtaugh. The latter spent last season with the Milwaukee Brewers of the triple-A American association, a Braves' farm.

As late as the end of the 18th century, Scots and Irish buried their butter deep in the peat bogs for aging and flavoring, for seven years.

Cage Officials To Organize Chapter

A meeting of PIAA basketball officials in this area will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the fire engine house for the purpose of forming a Gettysburg chapter.

Permission was granted Tuesday for the formation of the chapter by Edmund Wicht, secretary of the PIAA.

At Sunday's meeting officers will be elected and the official PIAA officials' constitution adopted, in order to have the chapter receive final PIAA approval.

All registered PIAA officials are invited to attend.

BUFFALO FACES COLTS SUNDAY IN BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Nov. 19—Still taking their breaks the hard way, but still trying, Baltimore's grid Colts are eagerly awaiting the invasion of Baltimore Stadium next Sunday of the Buffalo Bills. Any victory would be gratefully received by Cecil Isbell's Hosses after their six straight losses and their even longer string of misfortunes in their first All-America Conference season, but a win over the Bills is No. 1 on their ambition parade.

Most of the Baltimore club's woes and their downfall to the Eastern division cellar date back to the afternoon last month in Buffalo when a winning touchdown was called back on the last play of the game.

The Racehorse insisted he had scored. President Bob Rodenberg protested the game to league headquarters. All that came of it was the Steeds lost a game they still think they won. They were burned up at the time and they're still burned up and the action Sunday, as they try to make up for what they consider an outrage, should be fast and furious.

Whatever the outcome, the Colts will have something unique to offer the big crowd that is expected to turn out for the game, which is being promoted by Baltimore's Inter-Faith committee as a civic project. Every time Bud Schwenk, the Colts' terrific passer, throws or completes a pass, he will be re-breaking two new All-America Conference records, both of which he set last week at Brooklyn. Saturday's Game

New Freedom at Littlestown.

Littlestown high school's football team dropped its second game with-in four days to Dallastown high when the York counties earned a 24-6 victory in a game played Tuesday evening on the Biglerville gridiron. Last Saturday night Dallastown won 18-0 over the Thunderbolts at York.

The victory put Dallastown in first place in the Little Four conference. Littlestown can present the title to the Dallastown lads if it wins over New Freedom at Littlestown Saturday afternoon. A victory for New Freedom will create a deadlock for first place.

Littlestown's score, its first of the season, was made in the final minute of play on a pass from Gemmill to King which covered 52 yards, represented the first points the team had registered all season. A placement kick for the conversion was bad. Dallastown muffed four conversions, three on kicks and one on a running play.

In the third frame, after Gemmill kicked out of bounds on the 35-yard line, Heindel broke off tackle for 65 yards and a score. Another boot by Gemmill in the fourth period went out on the Dallastown 30 and Heindel again broke loose, going the whole distance, 70 yards to a touchdown.

Dallastown brought the opening passer of all time is going to get more and more so.

For the first time, too, in this tussle, Baltimore fans will see Buffalo's George Ratterman and Chet Mutryn, two of the AAF's brightest stars.

kickoff back to a touchdown with a march of 72 yards. A 20-yard run by Kell sparked the drive. Littlestown held three times on its two-yard stripe but Heindel finally went around left end for the tally. The second period score was set up by a 50-yard pass from Druck to Hildebrand which took the ball to the five-yard stripe after Hench had intercepted a pass.

Johnny Geesey then bolted across for the six-pointer.

The winners had 15 first downs against 11. More than 1,500 fans, largest of the season in the conference, saw the tilt.

LESSONS

We never stop going to school. There are lessons to be learned each day of our lives. There is more knowledge outside of books than there is in books. Nature is an open book, before us at all times. All we have to do is to look sharply and see just what the lesson is that we should take to mind and heart.

There are lessons to be studied in the bursting of a flower from the ground, from the leaf that unfolds, and from the ways and manners of birds. If we note carefully we will learn how nothing in Nature is lost. There is ever a renewing and change going on. We learn that rich soil produces more and better results, just as a well-stored mind is more creative.

Lessons are handed down to us by our elders, but we are a little touchy about paying strict attention to them. We want to figure out our own lessons, or way of interpreting them. As a consequence we have to pay dearly for the lessons that we have to learn from our mistakes and blunders.

There is a tendency for many in school to "cheat" in the examinations—just to get through. But in outside life one is thrown on one's own. You can't cheat there, and get ahead! And the lessons to be learned in life are far more difficult and significant.

We don't like to take advantage of the lessons learned by others, but it always pays in big dividends. Admiral Peary learned lessons from all who preceded him in their efforts to attain the discovery of the North Pole. They contributed to his final triumph. Biography and history are saturated with lessons that we can learn and profit from.

It is amazing how many ideas and tricks have been copied from Nature. A close study has revealed to the watchful, endless means whereby all of us have profited. Nature was first in a countless number of inventions for which men have taken the credit for discovery. The keen eye and the alert brain are ever on the watch for lessons to interpret, and from which to gain.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Finishers."

UNAFRAID

No dread of what the years may hold.

No heed to what the frightened tell

Or all the warnings of the old.

They're young, in love and all is well.

"The future holds no hope!" they hear.

"The world is being destroyed by might!"

But they have neither doubt nor fear

Their little world will be all right.

And what if trouble lies ahead

And burdens difficult to bear?

Together, when their vows are said,

Life's joys and sorrows they will share.

Let sages view with great alarm

And cry that hope for all has gone . . .

Two lovers walking, arm in arm,

Are sure their world will still go on.

Architect's Drawing Of New Research Lab.

A new laboratory, to be constructed in Arendtsville, will soon permit more extensive work by the scientists of the Arendtsville fruit laboratory. The building, shown above, in an architect's drawing, will be placed on a 14-acre plot which will be used by the scientists to grow fruit and other products on which they wish to conduct experiments. The new laboratory is to be constructed with funds raised by fruit growers from Adams and nearby counties. State College will pay rent until the $40,000 put up by the growers is paid off after which the building and lot will become the property of the college. The present laboratory is located in a former school house.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR ENTRIES AT '48 FARM SHOW

Only a few days remain for the filing of entries of all livestock and live poultry exhibits at the 1948 Pennsylvania Farm show at Harrisburg, next January 12 to 16.

None but Pennsylvania farmers and breeders are permitted to exhibit their prize animals, and entries close Saturday, November 22, according to State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst, chairman of the State Farm show commission.

Increased interest in expansion of the livestock industry in Pennsylvania has been shown in recent months, the secretary reminded. He expects this interest will be reflected in both numbers and quality of animals to be shown at the mammoth exposition in January.

Cap Handle 1,800 Head
Through re-arrangement of stalls and barn space in the 14 acres of Farm Show buildings, the largest indoor agricultural exhibition in the world this year can take care of 1,800 head of livestock, Secretary Horst declared.

In addition to 150 baby beeves to be shown by 4-H club members, there will be room for 300 breed type beef cattle, 600 dairy cattle, 75 horses, 350 swine, 400 sheep and between five and six thousand poultry. Premium payments offered by the Farm Show commission for winners in these divisions of the show total approximately $34,800 out of the all-time record of $44,600 in cash awards provided for all departments of the 1948 Farm show.

All livestock and poultry entries must go to the Farm show with a clean bill of health, the secretary cautioned prospective exhibitors. The customary rules and regulations with respect to freedom from bovine tuberculosis and Bang disease of cattle will be observed, December 15

FARM CALENDAR

Prepare to Mulch—Do not apply wheat straw mulch to the strawberry planting until after the ground is frozen and cold weather is steady, reminds C. S. Bittner, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. It will save time later, however, to haul the straw now and place it in piles along the planting.

Save Winter Fuel—Storm windows and doors and permanent weather stripping with caulking save fuel and add to comfort in the home, says J. R. Haswell, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. They are a good investment that will bring dividends throughout succeeding years.

Root Crops Need Air—Gardeners who store root crops are reminded by J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, that these crops—sweet potatoes, turnips, carrots, beets, and other—need some air circulation, especially when they are first put in storage. Remove warm air and allow cool air to enter.

Cull Poor Pullets—All pullets is the deadline for making certain blood tests by local veterinarians to comply with show regulations. Health certificates will be issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, State Department of Agriculture. All poultry exhibitors must certify that their birds are free from any evidence of or exposure to Newcastle or other infectious or transmissible disease within five days of admission to the show.

Copies of the official premium list or Farm show catalogue are available at the office of any county agent in Pennsylvania, or will be mailed to any prospective farmer or breeder exhibitor on request to the Farm Show Commission, Farm Show building, Harrisburg.

which do not become good layers after seven months of age should be culled from the flock and sold for meat, points out F. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist. This practice will save feed, labor, and space.

Feed Can Be Saved—Use of young sows in the breeding herd will save feed because these lighter animals require less feed for their maintenance than older, larger sows, says L. C. Madison, Penn State livestock extension specialist.

Catch Turkeys Easily—A corral, with catching crates in the small end, can be used to catch turkeys on range, says H. H. Kauffman, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

New Potato Yields Well—In tests of 16 varieties of potatoes, a new variety, Essex, was the best producer with an average yield of 543 bushels an acre, reports O. D. Burke, extension plant pathologists of the Pennsylvania State college. It is a late-season, fairly uniform white tuber, and blight-immune potato.

Corn Needs Air—Keep shelled corn out of the crib. It shuts off circulation of air among the ears and prevents the corn from drying, says J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college. Use a potato or cob fork for shoveling the corn from the wagon or truck into the crib instead of a scoop shovel.

Poison the Rats—Red squill, in either powder or liquid form, is considered by E. J. Udine, extension entomologist of the Pennsylvania State college, as the safest rat poison to use on most farms. Since it is a powerful emetic, most other animals rid themselves of the poison before serious damage is done if they do eat it.

Save Breeding Costs—Artificial breeding is cheaper than keeping an individual herd sire because the dairyman co-operates with his neighbors in owning some of the best bulls money can buy, says Joe S. Taylor, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

WINTER WHEAT FIELDS IMPROVE

While winter wheat fields in Pennsylvania are still "spotty" due to dry weather in October, the situation is improving, the State Department of Agriculture reports following Federal-State surveys made as of November 1.

Rainfall in September and October was only about one-half of normal and winter grain seedlings got off to a poor start. Many late seedlings have uneven stands, with knolls and dry spots bare. Considerable seed had sprouted and withered during the dry spell but some remained dormant and is now growing, the department reported. Many soils were too dry for plowing during the latter half of the month and some wheat was being planted as late as November 1, it was said.

Milk production was down seasonally but for the month of October the 439 million pounds was three per cent above the same month last year. Supplies of roughage and concentrates are generally average or above except in northern and some central counties where grain is short and much roughage is of low quality.

Although rate of lay declined, as is customary at this time of year, the addition of more pullets to laying flocks boosted egg production for October to a total of 20 million or seven per cent above September and 15 per cent over October last year.

Brood Winter Chicks—With insulated houses and modern equipment, winter-hatched chicks can be brooded comfortably and conveniently, according to F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Screen Plant Soil—To save time later, screen the plant-growing soil this fall to take out the larger stones and roots, reminds J. O. Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable specialist.

Girl, 16, Kept Alive By Nasal Feedings

Monongahela, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Dorothy Castor has been in a coma since the night of November 4, when she was injured in an automobile accident.

The auto which injured Dorothy killed a companion, Darlyene Bryner, 16-year-old high school band majorette, and seriously injured Mildred Smith, 15.

Dorothy is being kept alive on nasal feeding, her doctor at Monongahela Memorial hospital reports.

Says Wife Took His Wooden Leg, Scolded

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—A divorce bill filed by William M. O'Brien, 64-year-old union secretary, says his wife took away his artificial leg to keep him from leaving while she scolded him at length. His district court action charges cruelty.

Mrs. O'Brien told reporters it wasn't so.

DAVIS "GRAVELY ILL"

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP)—Former U. S. Senator James J. Davis of Pennsylvania, stricken with a kidney ailment in September, remained "gravely ill" today in a Washington hospital, his physician said. Davis, who served as secretary of labor under three Republican presidents, was declared to be in a critical condition several days ago.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

BENDERSVILLE EXTENDS WATER SYSTEM SOUTH

Laying of approximately 2,500 feet of six-inch pipe in the southern section of the borough has been completed by the Bendersville Water company.

The pipe extends from the former ending of the main along the road leading to Biglerville to a point south of the Keystone Ceramic plant where the road leading to Bendersville joins the Gettysburg-Carlisle road.

Ward Taylor, of the water company, said today that the extension was made to provide water to the ceramic plant and also to provide water for an expected development of land along the road as a residential area. So far plans are being discussed for the construction of about 15 dwellings along the road with one Bendersville resident planning to build ten new houses there next year if materials are available.

Regulate Pressure

The new area being opened lies much lower than the remainder of the community, Taylor said and as a result a new regulator has been secured to control the pressure of water in approximately 15,000 feet of mains throughout the town of Bendersville.

About 80 pounds pressure is being applied throughout the town by the new regulator, Taylor said, but added that the amount may be varied as experience shows what is needed to provide water pressure throughout the community. Before the regulator was installed the new section had a water pressure of 165 pounds, sufficient to burst garden hoses and cause rapid wear of spigots.

Transite pipe, a combination of asbestos, cement and other materials, was used in laying the new addition to the water system. Not only is the new pipe said to be practically wear proof, Taylor added, but it is light and easily handled and if one section breaks it can easily be removed and new pipe laid.

Adequate Water Supply

Taylor added that the water supply in the community continues to be "excellent". Even during the long dry spell this summer a pump installed at the reservoir was needed only occasionally to refill the reservoir. He estimated the supply of water secured at the reservoir as sufficient for the community's needs at the present rate of increase in size for the next 50 years.

The original reservoir of the Bendersville company was constructed in 1899 and rebuilt in 1933 with a capacity of 50,000 gallons. In 1933 a second reservoir of 200,000 gallons capacity was also built. The next year 1,000 spruce trees and 1,000 red pines were planted around the reservoirs to conserve water in that section.

To guarantee a sure supply of water throughout the year the company drilled a 150 foot artesian well in 1936 and installed a pump. The pump is set for 35 gallons per minute which appears to be much less than the capacity of the well.

Low Cost Operation

In addition to supplying the town with water, the water system also supplies more than a half million gallons of water per year to orchardists for spraying fruit trees. Despite the use of water, the reservoirs continue to overflow throughout most of the year.

Bendersville operates its water system at probably the lowest cost of any town in this section. Wholly owned by the borough the system has no meters and every user can utilize as much water as he wishes.

Operated formerly by a direct eight-mill tax, the system for several years in the past was operated at no cost at all to the taxpayers. The previous tax had brought in sufficient funds to cover the cost of operation so the tax was dropped for a period.

First Was Fire Protection

The system was installed originally for fire protection only, then the residents began to wonder why, since mains were installed to carry water to hydrants, it could not also carry water to homes. And as a result the water system as presently constituted came into existence.

In keeping with the fire protection provided by the water system two new hydrants have been placed

Service Station Explains Closing

Shetter's Service station at Biglerville gave a new twist to the gasoline rationing in a sign placed outside the station when it was closed recently.

Cut six per cent in its gasoline supply along with most other stations in this section, Shetter's good humoredly posted the following sign: "Closed Sunday due to temporary gas rationing. Will reopen when Russia has enough of our gas to fight us back with."

RATS AND MICE FOOD WASTERS

In the interest of further conservation of precious food and feed grains from Pennsylvania farms, State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst today cautioned farmers, millers and grain storage operators against continuing to "set a free table" for rats, mice and insects at an annual cost estimated at more than $15,000,000.

Rats alone account for nearly $7,000,000 worth of damage per year, according to estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Secretary Horst pointed out.

Other sources estimate each rat working on stored grain will destroy enough to keep a laying hen in good grain rations for more than two years since the average hen consumes about 75 pounds of grain per year.

Insects and molds are even more destructive than rats in grain storage bins, Secretary Horst declared. Pennsylvania farmers continually are fighting half a dozen different kinds of grain moths, about the same number of varieties of beetles and various grain mites. Their annual "board bill" in Pennsylvania is estimated at approximately $8,750,000.

Secretary Horst said guards against rat damage include rat-tight bins, careful use of poison baits. The keeping of active cats and dogs and destruction of rat breeding places. Insect damage can be reduced by treating bins with residual sprays or fumigants.

along the 2,500-1601 extension, Taylor said.

At present, the mains leading to the town from the reservoirs two miles from the community are of 4-inch pipe while the mains through the town are 3-inch pipe. The soil in Bendersville seems to cause little damage to the pipe laid in it, Taylor said, and sections 50 years old that have been dug up to add new connections are in as perfect shape as brand new pipe, Councilman Taylor added. The town system has about 25,000 feet of mains.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER WORST IN IN LAST YEAR

European corn borer infestation, continuously increasing in Adams county over the past several years, showed another gain this year, according to the State Bureau of Plant Industry which has just completed a survey of the 36 counties where the pest has established itself.

Adams county showed an increase of from 48.3 per cent to 52.6 per cent, placing the county far above the average for infestation in the state. Adams county has the fifth highest infestation among all counties in the state. Only Berks, with 54 per cent; Cumberland with 56.6 per cent; Delaware with 63.5 per cent and Lancaster with 65.9 per cent have a higher rate of infestation.

Farmers throughout the state stand to lose between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 from damage inflicted on their corn crop by the European corn borer this year, the state department of agriculture estimates. The department based its estimate on a conservative figure of $3,000,000 loss last year and the fact that while damage in general was no greater this year, corn values are considerably higher. In Adams county the loss will be much greater this year than last due to the increased borer population and the higher value for the crop.

New Counties Added

In 1945 the average corn borer infestation in 32 counties was 2.4 borer in 31.7 of every 100 individual

White Flies On House Plants

Few other indoor plant pests cause as much trouble as the tiny white fly. And likewise, no other plant insect is more difficult to control once it is well established. But, if all house plant growers will learn the habits of the white fly and follow these simple preventive and control suggestions, no serious troubles will be encountered.

Under greenhouse conditions about five weeks are required for a complete life cycle of this insect—from egg to the feeding form, to adult fly and to egg again. The fly is somewhat grayish or whitish because it is covered with a mealy wax coating which it secretes for protective armor. The female deposits her eggs in a circular group of six to nine on the under sides of plant leaves, with each egg set individually on end. These hatch in about 11 days into tiny young which move about for a short time and then become stationary on the leaf where they resemble scales. In fact, at this stage of their cycle the pest is often mistaken for a scale. It is this stationary form that causes corn stalks examined in the infested areas, mostly the double brood type in southeastern Pennsylvania counties. By 1946 the average had dropped to 1.8 borers per stalk in 27.7 per cent of all stalks examined in 34 counties. This year bureau agents found an average of 1.9 borers per stalk in 27.3 of every 100 stalks in 36 counties.

Infestations were found this year for the first time in Bedford and Fulton counties. Twenty counties showed a decrease in infestation, but 17 showed an increase, the survey revealed.

most of the damage to plants by sucking sap.

Of course, plant growers should not confuse the scale-like natural growths on fern leaves for these scales. Another house plant enemy may be confused with the flying adult white fly. This is the young of various soil worms which may be introduced in the compost or manure.

In most cases these soil-propagated gnats die without causing more than nuisance evils by their numbers. In most cases working fine tobacco dust into the soil before watering will solve the gnat problem.

Two phases of direct combat are stressed in warfare on the white fly. (1) Inspect plants every few days to detect the unhatched eggs of feeding scale-like young; (2) Start combat measures as soon as eggs, young or first active flies are seen. To postpone measures until the flies become numerous only invites infestations among other plants and creates a bigger problem to solve, but heavy indoors may be suffered by invaded plants in the meantime.

If numerous flies are observed, especially when the plant is jarred, move the plant to another room for treatment and keep it there until all the flies, young and eggs are destroyed.

One of the best remedies is a spraying with nicotine sulfate in soapy water at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 teaspoonfuls of 40 per cent solution in a gallon of water in which a 1-inch cube of ordinary laundry soap or 2 tablespoonfuls of soap flakes has been dissolved. The idea is to coat the eggs, the young and as many of the flies as possible. But of course the stationary young and eggs should be the chief aim, as they represent future potential flies for propagation. If necessary, repeat the application the next day or later.

Many persons have discovered that nicotine sulphate is more effective against all sap-sucking pests on house plants if the plant is covered at once with a snugly fitting paper cone or oilcloth over a frame to hold the fumes among the leaves for 8 to 24 hours. With such a covering a nicotine dust is often effective against the white fly.

SAYS PIGS GET BALANCED DIET "IN PASTURE"

"Let your pigs make hogs of themselves," L. C. Madison, extension animal husbandry specialist, advised 80 farmers Tuesday evening at a meeting in New Oxford. He also advised them that "it would be to the pigs' advantage if there was a housing shortage for hogs as well as humans."

The housing situation in regard to hogs came up in a discussion of the custom of some farmers of keeping their pigs confined to pigpens and feeding them nothing but grain. Permitting the pigs to pasture, particularly in ladino clover, not only cuts down the amount of grain that they need, but provides a better balanced ration for them and develops hogs with a better flavor, Madison stated.

Suggests "Colony" Houses

He advised the farmers, if they do not have hog pens at present to put up inexpensive "colony" houses without floors. The pigs, he said, will be more comfortable there than in a concrete bottomed solid structure.

He also advised the farmers to make self-feeders and automatic waterers out of waste lumber to be found on most farms. The pigs will do a more efficient job of making hogs out of themselves with self-feeders than can be done by hand feeding, Madison pointed out. By having the self-feeders doing the work the farmer will also have more time to do other things, Madison added.
